

£129.95 DMR Extype Crankset

UPGRADE 01403 711611 WWW.UPGRADEBIKES.CO.UK WEIGHT 1,300G (WITHOUT RINGS)

DMR have been making three-piece BMX style cranks for years, and this new hybrid crank is a belter. The integrated steel axle is welded onto their proven chromoly steel arm on one side and bolted on at the other. This gives convenient fitting and slam-proof steel strength, and they're not even conspicuously heavy.

It comes with a conventional four-arm spider, but five-arm and direct fit DMR splined chainrings (28, 36 and 38-tooth) are available, making this a versatile set-up. The BB is holding up OK so far too, although it's not designed for high mileage.

Even once you add chainrings we think they're definitely worth the money if you're a regular alloy crank mangler.

A great maximum strength, highly versatile, easy fit upgrade for alloy crank killers
